

IOWA MAKES A DECIDED KICK

Shippers Take Up Question Of Rates For Shipments Of Cattle To Chicago.

WANT REGULAR RATE DECIDED ON

Claim Service Of The Road Has Deteriorated Decidedly In Past Few Years--Want Everything Adjusted.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., July 9.—Charges that the Burlington, Milwaukee, and other western and northern railroad lines are exacting excessive discriminatory rates from the livestock shippers of eastern Iowa were made today before the interstate commerce commission by the Iowa Cattle Raisers' association of Iowa.
It is alleged although the shippers of Iowa send out of the state annually thousands of carloads of stock annually to Chicago, in addition to tens of thousands of carloads of other livestock they are compelled to pay $17.50 per car more for such shipments than other shippers are required to pay.
They allege the railway service has deteriorated during the past few years and that rates they are compelled to pay work an undue unjust prejudice against the Iowa shippers.
They request the commission to fix the maximum rates on shipments of livestock from Iowa to Chicago and also on shipments of stock from the southern and western ranges to Iowa points.

TWO MEASURES PASS THIS MORNING IN THE ASSEMBLY

Strict Qualifications For Town And Village Officers--Railway Speed Limits.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 9.—The Senate bill establishing a stricter qualification for city and town officials was concurred in by the assembly this morning. The law provides that no person is eligible for any town, village or city office if he is interested pecuniarily in contracts for heat, light, water, power or other public service corporation or if he is a stockholder in any corporation holding such a contract. The assembly concurred in the senate bill raising the speed limit of trains through villages and cities where they are no guards or flagmen from six to twelve miles. With a gate equipment the limit is made thirty miles and with bells the limit is fixed at twenty miles.

BANKHEAD WILL BE NAMED SUCCESSOR

Opposition to His Election as Successor to Morgan Has Entirely Died Out.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Montgomery, Ala., July 9.—The election of ex-Congressman John H. Bankhead to succeed the late John T. Morgan in the United States senate by the Alabama legislature, which convened today for its adjourned or "split" session, is assured. Practically all talk of opposition to Mr. Bankhead's election has subsided and his selection is now a matter of certainty. The party leaders taking the ground that it is incumbent upon them to act in accordance with the request of the state primary last August, which declared Mr. Bankhead to be first choice for an alternate senator, in addition to the senatorial election the legislature will have considerable business of importance to dispose of at the present session. Probably the most important matter to engage attention will be the report of the committee appointed to frame a municipal code, which will provide a uniform system of government for all the cities of Alabama of over 2,000 population.

COMPLAINT BY CREAMERIES

Concerns Accuse Western Railroads of Maintaining Excessive Rates.

Washington, July 9.—Conspiracy and discrimination, in addition to the exaction of excessive rates, are the charges preferred in a complaint filed Monday with the interstate commerce commission by the Beatrice Creamery company, of Iowa; the Blue Valley Creamery company, of Missouri; and the Blue Valley Creamery company, of Iowa, against the Illinois Central railroad, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, the Chicago, Great Western, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Chicago Northwestern, and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.
The complainants assert that they purchase cream throughout the western part of the United States and ship it to central plants in various cities of the middle west, where it is manufactured into butter. In the aggregate they do a business amounting to nearly $30,000,000 a year, involving the manufacture of almost 50,000,000 pounds of butter. They allege that the rates charged them by the railroads on shipments of cream are excessive and unreasonable, and that they are prevented from obtaining a reduction in the rates by the attitude of several of the defendants, who have conspired to keep the rates at their present high figures. The commission is asked to fix just and reasonable rates.

PARADE OF SIR KNIGHTS IMPRESSIVE SPECTACLE

Every State In Union And Several Foreign Countries Represented In Gala Procession At Saratoga.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Saratoga, N. Y., July 9.—This has been a gala day in the history of Saratoga, and, though the village has been the scene of many large and imposing gatherings in the past, the spectacle witnessed today is conceded to have been the most impressive in its history and to have brought within her confines the largest crowd ever seen on the streets.
The great crush of visitors to the Knights Templars' convocation came today as the special attraction was the big parade of 20,000 Knights in uniform. The town was gayly decorated for the occasion, and everywhere along the line of march the Templars' colors and emblems, emblazoned with national flags, floated from windows and balconies or hung from ropes stretched across the streets.

Every state of the union and half a dozen foreign lands were represented in the procession, which was made up of eleven divisions. The first division included Washington commandery of Saratoga as escort to the grand encampment, and St. Bernard commandery of Chicago as special escort to Grand Master George M. Moulton. In the first division also were the officers of the grand encampment and the notable visitors, among the latter being the Earl of Euston, representing the English branch of the order, Massachusetts and Rhode Island commanderies, headed by Grand Commander Young as marshal, made up the second division, and next in line came the grand and subordinate commanderies of Virginia, Vermont, New Hampshire, Ohio and Kentucky. The fourth division comprised the grand and subordinate commanderies of Connecticut.

The ninth division included the delegations from South Dakota, Oregon, Washington, Wyoming, Montana, North Dakota, Arizona, Florida and Indian Territory. In the tenth division were the Templars from the District of Columbia, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Idaho, while the last division was made up of the grand and subordinate commanderies of New York.

After the parade occurred the formal opening of the convocation in the town hall, with addresses of welcome by Governor Hughes, Grand Commander Knapp of New York and others, and a response by Grand Master Moulton. With the conclusion of these formalities the grand encampment went into executive session for the transaction of its regular business. A spirited contest has developed for the honor of entertaining the next triennial convocation, among the cities presenting invitations being Los Angeles, Milwaukee and Indianapolis.

THINKS SAKAMOTO WAS MISQUOTED

Japanese Embassy Vigorously Discredits the Interview in the Hochi—Government Thinks Fleet Inadequate.

Washington, July 9.—Admiral Brownson, chief of the bureau of navigation of the navy department, said Monday he was satisfied that the Japanese admiral, Sakamoto, who is reported in the Hochi, a Japanese anti-governmental paper, to have questioned the patriotism of American naval crews and the ability of the American naval officers, has been misquoted. Said Admiral Brownson: "While spurred on by a spirit of unrest or homesickness, sailors have sometimes left the American navy, but they have always done so in time of peace. There is no record of a bluejacket deserting in time of war."
Discredited at Embassy.
At the Japanese embassy the officials discredited the reported utterances of Admiral Sakamoto. Mr. Masano Hanahara, the second secretary, expressed his strong belief that the admiral had not given voice to any such utterances as those printed or anything like them, and that if he spoke about the matter at all he has been badly misquoted.

Such alleged sentiments by the admiral, he declared, were absurd and nonsensical, and their publication was very much deprecated. It was not the practice of naval officers in Japan, Mr. Hanahara said, of those connected with the navy to talk in such fashion. The ambassador, Viscount Aoki, he declared, did not care to discuss the matter, because he did not want to give it any importance by referring to it.

Think Fleet Inadequate.

One purpose of the administration in ordering the big naval demonstration on the Pacific coast next winter is to impress congress with the necessity of making more adequate provision for the national defense. It will be shown that our present fleet is incapable of dominating in both the Pacific and the Atlantic.

While Admiral Evans' Armada is in Pacific waters, the eastern coast will be practically at the mercy of a European foe, should such unexpectedly arise. And, not only are more ships needed, but increased naval and docking facilities, especially in the Pacific.

The navy department contemplates the establishment of one of the greatest naval stations in the world at Olongapo, a harbor north of Manila. The initial work on this project already has been done, but a large sum of money is needed to complete it.

One Sensible Tokio Paper.

Tokio, July 9.—Asahi publishes an interview with an influential Japanese naval expert, who says:

"It would be improper to infer a demonstration in the transfer of the American fleet to the Pacific. This movement is part of a prearranged plan and is a result of the constant growth of the American navy and the increasing importance of Pacific interests from the strategic point of view. No significance need be attached until at least 30 ships have been transferred to the Pacific."
The Asahi also publishes an editorial article setting forth the same views. It regrets the American fleet cannot visit Japan imperiously to enable Japan to reassert her sincerity and reciprocate the naval hospitality extended to the visiting Japanese warships at Jamestown.

Predicts War With Japan.

Okla. City, Okla., July 9.—United States Senator Robert Taylor, of Tennessee, in an interview here Monday said:

"War with Japan is bound to come eventually. I am glad that 18 battleships have been sent to the Pacific coast. If war were to be declared now Japan could easily gobble up all of our far east possessions. Permanent peace can come to the United States by a large navy, and I trust some day this country may have 100 battleships."

BOMB FOR JOHN CONDON.

Attempt to Kill Family of Former Race Track Owner.

Chicago, July 9.—A dynamite bomb arranged with a time fuse exploded on the window sill of the "Napoleon room" in the residence of "Blind John" Condon, the former race track owner, 2623 Michigan avenue, Monday night. It had been placed there with the intent to murder the entire family. Contrary to their usual custom, however, Mr. and Mrs. Condon and their son, John, were in the upper part of the house when the explosion occurred, and thus escaped.

The explosion shook the house to its foundations, tore away the stone wall under the window, demolished the window, and damaged pictures and furniture in the room. Condon lays the plot to his gambling enemies.

A HARD FIGHT ON FOR FIRST HONORS

Miss Grace "Dade" Conroy Again Assumes the Lead Among the Ladies. Miss Carrie Rye and Miss Edna Pomeroy Take First and Second In the 2nd District. Candidates Closely Bunched In 3rd.

TURN IN ALL THE NEW SUBSCRIBERS THIS WEEK AND GET THE TRIPS TO CHARLEVOIX

The Result Is Still Purely A Matter Of Speculation, The Leaders Apparently Being In More Danger Of Dethronement Than Ever—It Will Require Solid And United Support On The Part Of Their Friends To Enable Them To Maintain Their Positions When The Final Count Is Made.

This week's work will decide who will have the pleasure of taking some friend on a vacation trip to Charlevoix. The one turning in the most new subscribers by the 15th will get the trip.

Every active contestant seems more than pleased with their own accomplishments to date, and most all, having a very large reserve vote stored away, believe they have a surplus for their opponents to spring on the last day. There will be many surprises of that we are sure. Who will be the surprised parties we really don't know. The contest is still to be won.

The generous support given all the candidates is proof that all are worthy contestants for the great honors to be bestowed upon the most successful.

It would be well, however, for those who feel that they are sure winners to remember that the "other fellows" feel just as sure of winning as they do.

There never was a more even fight waged by a bunch of hustlers than the one now on, and the battle is still to be won. The next few days' work must determine the winners of this great diamond contest. Don't hesitate to call on your friends for their support as no one is at present a sure winner.

There is no doubt that the strength of some of the strongest organizations of this city will be brought out at the final count.

Everyone seems to recognize the fact that the vote cast will be very much larger than was at first expected and a strenuous scramble for votes is being made by all desirous of winning the beautiful diamonds, watches, and vacation trips.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, July 9, 1867.—Debate.—The question to be debated this evening at the Young Men's association rooms is as follows: Resolved, That Theatrical performances should be prohibited by statute law. Affirmative—S. B. Smith and Mr. Wheelock. Negative—E. F. Welch and Dr. Jones. All are invited to attend.

The Joint Picnic.—The various committees appointed to perfect arrangements for the picnics of the Presbyterian and Congregational churches are making good progress. The boats will leave for the picnic grounds at 8 1/2 and 11 o'clock a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m. Mr. Burns, of Chicago, and Mr. Chapman, of New York, formerly of this city—will be present and make addresses.

Take Care of Them.—A drove of fifteen or twenty horses is running at large in the Third ward and committing various depredations. They have already been on to one wheat field twice, besides being a nuisance generally, and before the owner knows it he will have a heavy bill of expense to settle, not for damages only but for a violation of the city ordinance prohibiting horses from running at large within the limits of the city. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Fourth of July.—The ladies who represented the states of the union on the 4th inst. are kindly requested to meet at the Good Templars' hall on Tuesday evening, July 10, at 7 1/2 p. m. to go to Sarnbom's restaurant to partake of an entertainment which the committee was unable to provide for them in a suitable manner on the 4th.

Old Fellows.—There will be a public installation of the officers of Wisconsin lodge I. O. O. F. No. 14 Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Brothers are cordially invited to attend with their ladies. S. B. Kenyon, R. S.

A BARREL OF APPLES.

But the Groceryman Would Not Hear the Tale.

"I wish to speak to you about that barrel of apples I bought day before yesterday," said the kind-looking old gentleman.

"You'll have to see the clerk who sold them to you," the grocer answered, very snappishly. "I don't know anything about them."

"But I desire to say to you personally that—"

"Now, look here; I can't be bothered over every pound of sugar or pint of cider or barrel of apples that my clerks sell. Just see the young man who waited on you. He's around somewhere."

"Yes, I see him there at the back end of the store; but I really felt that it was my duty to tell you about it. You see—"

"If I stood around listening to everybody who comes into this store to complain that they've bought something they didn't want, or that they've been slighted, as they think, by my clerks, I wouldn't have time for anything else. You'll please excuse me. The clerk will hear your complaint, and if there is anything we can do, you may be sure it will be done. But we can't take back a barrel of apples after they have been out of the store two or three days. You can surely see that if we did business in such a way—"

"My dear sir, I don't want you to take back the apples, and I haven't any complaint to make. I merely wished to tell you that I found the apples at the bottom of the barrel to be just as big as the ones at the top. I believe in the principle of giving praise wherever it may be fairly given, and I stepped in to order another barrel, but I see you're too busy to bother with such a trifle this morning, so I will be going."—Chicago Record-Herald.

JOSEPH GRAHAM FOUND GUILTY OF BURGLARY

Of the Marshall Home at 105 S. Main St.—Sent to Prison for Fifteen Months—Attempt at Jail Delivery Feared.

Joseph Graham, the suspect arrested by Officer Mason on the charge of burglarizing the home of Mrs. Harriet L. Marshall, the Mesdames Georgianna and Caroline Cross, and Eliza Cross at 105 South Main street at an early hour on Friday, June 28, appeared in municipal court this morning for his trial. With the understanding that he was to plead guilty to the charge of breaking and entering which carries with it a sentence of from 2 to 8 years in prison, was altered to that of simply "entering," for which the penalty ranges from 1 to 3 years. M. P. Richardson was the attorney appointed for him by the court. Graham admitted the crime but urged in extenuation of his conduct that he was under the influence of liquor.

He denied ever having been behind the bars before but the fact remains that Sheriff Fisher breathed a sigh of relief when he had him aboard the 12:40 train bound for Waupun. Several things which have happened lately have led the officer to fear an attempted jail delivery. Belle Petroe, the woman who was brought here from Beloit to serve a long sentence for unseemly conduct and who was released last week on payment of $53.50, told the sheriff that after midnight on two nights she had seen men loitering around the rear of the jail with lights and that on one occasion they came in a boat and landed there.

The sentence meted out to Graham was one year and three months in the penitentiary. The fine odd dollars in money which was taken from him and which corresponded to a cent with the amount stolen from the South Main street home, even to the denominations for the pieces of currency, were returned to the owners by order of the court.

Walls Papered with Bank Checks.

A new design in fancy wall paper comes from Kansas City; also a way to utilize cancelled checks. A firm has had all its offices papered with old checks, placed nearly edge to edge. The face figures of the checks vary from $30,000 to $1,000, and the total for one room is $8,000,000. As a gift moulding runs around the edges of each check-panel the general effect is rather pleasing.

EZRA GOODRICH ON THE INDIAN TRAILS

Makes Some Interesting Corrections and Additions to the Map and Data Published May 22.

Ezra Goodrich of Milton Junction who has been a resident of the town of Milton since 1829, writes to the Gazette under date of July 5 to take exception to the location of Indian and army camps as shown in the map of the town of Milton in 1833, as compiled by the late President Whitford of Milton College, and published in this paper May 22 in connection with an article on the Blackhawk war.

"The army trails," according to the writer, "are nearly correct. They passed through Janesville near the high school building (the old building is undoubtedly meant) came up over the prairie crossing the William Spaulding farm, and passed through Milton; leaving the public square where the Baptist church now stands." "But the location of General Atkinson's army camp ground is so materially and ridiculously wrong as to call for prompt correction, as a map which shows a material and interesting historical event wrong were much better not published at all." This is hardly fair and generous to the late President Whitford who was undoubtedly a painstaking investigator; particularly when it develops that the quantity of error as measured by Mr. Goodrich is a matter of rods, whereas the map is scaled to miles and obviously does not purport to go into the finer details of fractional sections. What Mr. Goodrich has to say is very interesting and valuable. Exception is taken only to the spirit in which it is offered.

"General Atkinson's camp," he continues, "is located by the map published by the Gazette, as being on the sectional line between Secs. 26 and 36, and 200 rods west of Storrs' lake—which would be about where the Whitewater and Johnson roads cross each other in Milton at Vincent's corner—and which is 200 rods west, and 80 rods south of where his army encamped. His camp ground was in a deep little hollow on the west bank of Storrs' lake, southeast of and close by the ice-house now standing there. The coals and ashes of his campfires were plain to be seen in 1829, as were also the staves, heads and hoops of a half-barrel rum cask which had been emptied and left there. And this campfire was within 6 rods of Storrs' lake, instead of the 200 rods from any water at all."

"Another material error in the map as published is in locating Storrs' lake as coming south to the sectional line, which is the Milton & Whitewater road. Storrs' lake is 24 rods north of this line. The map also locates an Indian camp-site east of Storrs' lake, while there was no sign of an Indian camp-site east of Storrs' lake. Wigwag-poles with coals and ashes of campfires within, were still standing in 1839 north of Storrs' lake on the south bank of Little Goodrich lake. And scattered all around them were the horns and bones of many deer which had been killed and eaten. Around this camp a lot of ironwood trees came up and grew. These were the only ironwoods I saw this side of the Bark river-woods and they are nearly all dead."

"The Blackhawk and Atkinson army trails were the only deep cut and clearly marked trails that were worn through the sod so as to attract my attention in Milton. Blackhawk's trail was a single track, while Atkinson's was a double track, and following it."

"The little lakes were all full of ducks and wild game, and they were the native Indians' favorite hunting grounds. They often went from one lake to another, which may have made foot-paths that in places were visible, but most of the Indian trails as shown on the map published in the Gazette, are imaginary. They never were real."

"There had been a large Indian village on the north side of Lake Koshkonong, located at a place known as Taylor's Point, where the Indians said 4,000 inhabitants had lived, and that they had raised corn there in the same hills for one hundred years. These corn hills were plain to be seen. The Indians told this story to Hon. S. Clarke, who was subsequently a member of our legislature. Mr. Clarke told us that he and that the village in 1832, I think, and that the squaws could gather around him and watching their fingers they would rub his cheeks to see if they were not colored with paint."

NO MORE SMOKE FROM N. W. SWITCH-ENGINE

Smoke Consumer Placed on Stack Stops Nuisance to Housewives.

Complaints which have been coming from housewives and residents in the vicinity of the North-Western tracks against the smoke nuisance caused by switch-engine No. 1044 have been allayed by the installation of a smoke-consumer on the engine. For some time since, many people living close to the North-Western tracks have been registering complaints with the city authorities and the railroad company against the nuisance committed by the smoky switch-engine whose smoke-stack sent out a loathsome bunch of soot and fine particles of ashes every time it went up or down the yards. The smoke consumer consists of a set of small steam pipes arranged in a cone-like manner over the top of the stack, the steam being supplied from the boiler through a pipe running up the side of the engine. The constantly escaping steam from the small pipes precipitates the particles of soot and ashes into the fire box below and prevents their promiscuous floating over that part of the city adjacent to the railroad tracks.

One hundred twenty Sunday school workers, largely from the southern part of Wisconsin, were in attendance at this afternoon when the state Sunday School convention opened at the Car-gill M. E. church. This number will probably be enlarged tomorrow.

At one forty-five o'clock the convention was formally inaugurated. Rev. J. W. Laughlin of this city, delivering the address of welcome. Rev. C. A. Broughton of New London conducted a song service. He will remain in charge of the music throughout the meeting, being especially talented in such work. "H. H. Rootman of Fair-weather, Wis., delivered the principal address of the afternoon, speaking on "Teachers' Wayside Ministries."

At four o'clock an elementary grade session meeting was held at the Baptist church.

This evening services will begin with music at 7:30, 8 o'clock and at 8:00 Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver, Colo., the greatest of juvenile court magistrates, will deliver his famous lecture on youthful criminals and their salvation. There is no doubt but that the audience of the Methodist church will be tested.

Tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock the primary grade children from the Sunday schools of the Congregational, Presbyterian, Baptist, and Methodist churches are requested to gather at the Congregational church.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliancy vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the check of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate woman's organs, so surely when these organs are established in health, the face and form will be restored to their former beauty. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native American medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm to any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, "Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute," Buffalo, N. Y.

John Henry on the Hotel Clerk

By HUGH McHUGH

(George V. Hobart)

Kee Barclay, Jim Wilkinson and I were leaning over the counter talking to his nob, the hotel clerk, when Dan the Dyspeptic squeezed up and began to let a peep out of him about the plot he had eaten for dinner.

"Calm yourself!" said Smiling Steve, "and tell me where it bit you."

Steve has been throwing keys at the wall for some time, and he knows how to burn the beavers.

"Bit me!" bit me!" snarled the old chap; "nothing of the kind, sir! I want you to know, sir, that your plot isn't fit to eat, sir!"

"Cut it out!" suggested Steve.

"Cut it out, sir! how can I cut it out when I've eaten it, sir? It's an outrage and I shall leave this hotel tomorrow," said Dan.

"With the exception of $31.72 balance due, that will be about all from you!" said Steve.

"I'll see the proprietor," said the old fellow, moving away with a face on him like an interrupted beef stew.

"We get it good and plenty every day," said Steve, and just then Skate Peters grabbed the book and burned his John Hancock on it.

I know his name was Skate because it looked like one on the register.

"Bath?" queried Steve.

"Only during a hot wave," said Skate.

Steve went to the ropes, but he came up smiling, as usual.

"American or European?" asked Steve.

"Neither," said Skate; "don't you see I'm from Jersey City."

"Going to be with us long?" inquired Steve.

"Say, Bub! you're hellanall on asking questions, now ain't you?" answered Skate "you just push me into a stall and look the gate—I'm tired."

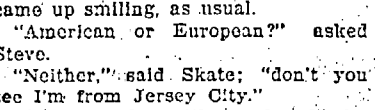

"Front! show this gentleman to 49!" said Skate, side-stepping to avoid punishment.

Then Sweet William, the boy drummer, hopped into the ring for the next round.

Willie peddles pickles for the fun he gets of it.

It is Willie's joy and delight to get a ginger ale bun on and recite "Ostler Joe."

When trained down to 95 flat Willie

Sweet William Stuck His Feet on a Rail and Thought He Was It.

can get up and beat the clapper off "Curfew Shall Not Ring To-night."

When Willie gets a strangle hold on "Sheridan's Ride" you can hear horses galloping outside.

It's the rest of the community getting out of harm's way.

"Any mail?" inquired Willie.

All the mail that Willie ever gets is a postal card from the pickle factory every two weeks asking him if the people along his route have all lost their appetites.

"No literature for you," Steve answered.

"Strange," said Willie, "my lady friends are very remiss, aren't they?"

"Yes; it looks like they were out to drop you behind the piano," said Steve.

Willie tore off a short rabbit laugh and then inquired what time the next train left for New York.

The pickle factory expects Willie to make Pocumoke City, Squashtown Junction and Nubbinsville before next Sunday, so he tossed the train gag out just to show Steve that he knows there's a place called New York.

"At 7:45 over the D. L. & Q.," said Steve.

"What's the next?" inquired Willie.

"At 8:10 over the H. B. & N.," Steve answered.

Turkish Proverb.

He that does good shall find good; he that does evil shall find evil.—Turkish.

"Which gets there first?" Willie asked.

"The engineer," sighed Steve.

"Oh, you droll chap!" said the pickle pusher; "give me some tooth-picks."

Then Sweet William went over to the big window, burrowed into a chair, stuck his feet up on the brass rail, ate toothpicks and thought he was IT.

When I got back to Steve he was dealing out the cards to a lady from Reading, Pa., and Kee and Jim had ducked to the billiard room.

Her husband had been up in the air with a bum automobile and when he came down he was several sections shy.

They found a monkey wrench imbedded in his left shoulder which he couldn't remember using when he tried to fix the machine.

She was traveling for his health.

"My room is too near the elevator," she informed Steve.

"I can give you a very nice room on the third floor—Front! show the lady—"

"Same size room?"

"Yes, madam."

"Same colored carpet on the floor?"

"I believe it has—Front! show the lady—"

Southern exposure?"

"Yes, madam, it's at the end of the hall."

"I want a room near the elevator, that's always the way in these hotels! One can never get just what one wants! At the end of the hall, indeed!" And with this she gave Steve the society stang with both eyes and founced out.

Steve bit the end off a pen holder and said the rest internally.

Just then a couple of troupers trailed in.

They were with the "Bandit's Bride company," and the way had been long and weary.

"What have you got—double?" asked the villain of the piece.

"Two dollars and up!" said Steve.

"Nothing better?" inquired Low Comedy—he was making a crack but nobody caught him.

"Four dollars, with bath," Steve suggested.

"Board?" asked the villain.

"Nothing but the sleeps and a fresh cake of soap," said Steve.

"Ring down!" Low Comedy put in;

"Thought Picture a Ghost."

Once Dr. Grenfell visited Ramah and exhibited to the astonished Eskimos some stereopticon views—photographs that he had taken there in a previous year. It so happened that one of the pictures was that of an old woman who had died since the photograph was made, and when it appeared upon the screen terror-struck the hearts of the simple-minded people. They believed it was her spirit returned to earth, and for a long time afterward imagined that they saw it floating about at night, visiting the woman's old haunts.—Outing Magazine.
